The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the Smashing Magazine website. The browser's address bar shows the URL <http://www.smashingmagazine.com/>. The website's navigation menu includes links for HOME, GRAPHICS, SHOWCASES, INSPIRATION, FONTS, HOW-TO, CSS, TOOLS, FREEBIES, TUTORIALS, JOBS, and FORUM. The main content area features an article titled "Getting Started With Ruby On Rails" by March 19th, 2009, with 20 comments. The article text begins with "If you're a Web developer who's been curious about Ruby on Rails but has never gotten around to trying it out because you couldn't find a suitable overview of its advantages, then this article is for you. We want to bring Ruby on Rails closer to those who want to take a peek first, without going through an entire tutorial. So, this article is structured a little different from most other introductions out there; hopefully it is more useful because of this." Below the text is a large red and white logo for "RAILS". The right sidebar contains several advertisements, including MailChimp (9,3893 subscribers), Google Search, and various service providers like Business Logos ($149 only), Logo Design Team, Flash Components, Train. Teach. Sell., PSD2HTML.COM, and Screen Recording Software.
